START HERE

How this works

Picture a little toy world on a table, like a picture-book diorama. A client starts alone in an empty field. Each time they add their family, their home, their car, their dog or their treasures, something new appears and the world grows. Every image you draw is one piece that we place in that world.

One piece at a time

Each picture is a single piece on a transparent background: one house, one car, one pose of Roxie. We arrange them in the app, so you never need to draw a whole scene.

Round 1 comes first

The list is split into three rounds. Round 1 is enough to play from the empty field to a small neighborhood. Within a round, any order is fine.

Send batches

Send files back whenever a handful are ready. There is no need to wait for a whole round, and we can start using them right away.

File names matter

The app finds each picture by its file name, so please name every file exactly as it appears in the checklists. If the list says `hq-building.png`, that is the name the game will look for. Names are always lowercase, with dashes, and end in `.png`.

WHEN THE LIST SAYS	YOU MAKE	EXAMPLE FILE NAMES
A plain name	One file	`hq-building.png`
Colors (red, blue...)	One file per color	`vehicle-sedan-red.png` `vehicle-sedan-blue.png`
Skin tones (t1 to t4)	One file per skin tone	`person-woman-t1.png` `person-woman-t4.png`
Numbered versions	One file per number	`flower-1.png` `flower-2.png`

Reading the checklists

Every row has a box to tick (on a row with several colors or versions, tick it once they are all done) and a canvas size in pixels, width × height. The small emoji beside many rows is what the game shows today while it waits for your art: a hint about what the thing is, not a design to copy.

The look

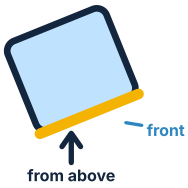

Mood

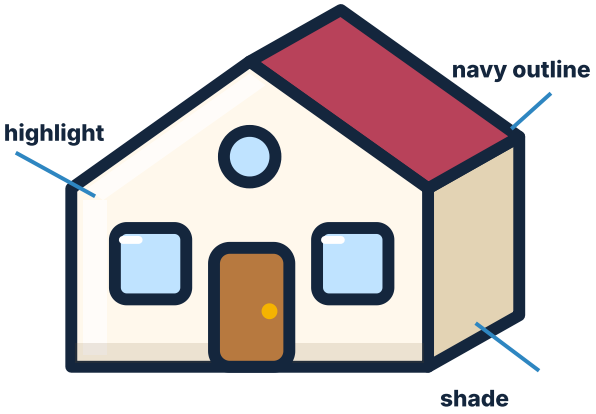

Warm, friendly and picture-book, like chunky wooden toys on a play mat. Shapes are rounded and a little oversized: slightly big wheels, roofs and heads. Nothing scary and nothing realistic-gritty. Our players range from kids to people in their 80s, so every piece should feel welcoming and read at a glance. A quick test: shrink it down to about 48 px. Can you still tell what it is?

Angle

Everything is drawn like a board-game piece: seen slightly from above (about 30°), front facing, and turned a little to the right. Use the same angle for every piece, so they all sit together in the world as one set.

A rough example of the angle, outline and shading. Please don't copy this house: it is only a diagram.

Outline

Dark navy `#14263D`, about 2% of the canvas width (roughly 20 px on a 1024 canvas), with rounded ends and corners. Keep the thickness the same on every piece, big or small. On a 512 canvas that is about 10 px.

Shading

Flat fills, plus one darker shade on the bottom-right and one highlight on the top-left. Light always comes from the top-left. No gradients, no fancy textures.

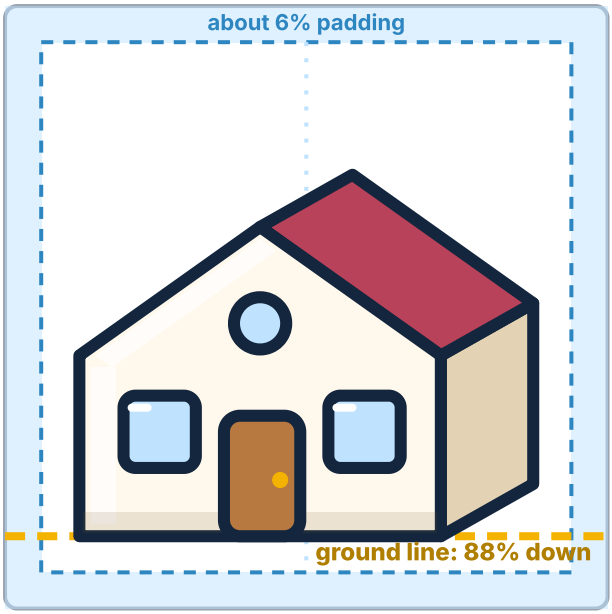

STYLE GUIDE · 2 OF 3

Placement and ground rules

Where it sits on the canvas

Center the piece. Its base sits on a ground line at 88% of the canvas height, with about 6% padding on the other sides. That is what lets every piece line up in the world, so a house, a car and a dog all stand on the same ground.

For a 1024 canvas, 6% is about 61 px and the ground line is about 901 px from the top. The Canva page has the numbers for the other sizes.

centered, base on the ground line

Recolor tip

Anything that comes in colors (vehicles, skin tones, pets) should have the varying part drawn as one flat color group: the car body, the skin, the coat. Each variant is then a quick recolor in Canva instead of a redraw.

Draw the shade and highlight on top of that group, so they stay put when the color changes.

Never include

A background
Every piece is a transparent PNG. Only the level skies and the app icon have a background.

A ground shadow
The app adds shadows itself, so they always match.

Any text, letters or numbers
The app adds the labels, which keeps text sharp and easy to translate. Loomis HQ's sign and the shop's sign are blank panels.

A few exceptions

- Scenery (grass tile, lake, roads, sidewalk, clouds and the skies) fills its canvas and is soft, with no navy outline.
- Tiles (grass, road, fence, path) must join up: the left edge matches the right, and the top matches the bottom or the next piece.
- Pieces in the air (Roxie jumping, the drone) can float above the ground line. Keep them centered.

You don't need to match these exactly, but please stay close so everything feels like one family. If Loomis has official brand colors, use them for HQ and Roxie's collar. Pets use natural, friendly coat colors of your choice. Teal is for the classic car only.

Do and don't

Do	Don't
✓ Chunky, toy-like shapes with rounded corners	✗ Thin, spindly or realistic shapes
✓ Dark navy outline, the same thickness everywhere	✗ Mixing outline colors or thicknesses
✓ One angle for every piece: slightly above, a little turned right	✗ Flat front views, or pieces turned the other way
✓ Transparent background, centered, base on the ground line	✗ A background, a floor, or a ground shadow
✓ Friendly faces and gentle expressions	✗ Anything scary, gritty, sharp-toothed or sad
✓ Shapes that still read at 48 px	✗ Tiny details that vanish when small
✓ Recolor-ready groups for colors and skin tones	✗ Any text, letters or numbers (the app adds labels)
✓ A clearly different look for clients' pets and for Roxie	✗ A client's dog that looks like Roxie

HOW-TO

Drawing and exporting in Canva

Canva Pro has everything you need. Here is the whole trip from a blank canvas to a finished file.

1. Create a design, then Custom size. Type the width and height in px from the checklist (for example 1024 × 1024).
2. Draw the piece. Keep it centered, with its base on the ground line (88% down) and about 6% padding. Turning on Canva's rulers and guides makes this easy: place guides at the spots in the little table below.
3. Download. Choose Share, then Download. Set the file type to PNG and tick Transparent background (a Canva Pro feature). Then press Download.
4. Rename the file to the exact name in the checklist, for example `vehicle-sedan-red.png`.
5. Optional bonus: if Canva offers SVG for the design, download one as well and keep the same name but ending in `.svg`. We still need the PNG.
6. Need a smaller size? Finish the 1024 version first, then use Canva's Resize to make the 512 and 256 versions of the same piece.

Guide positions

CANVAS SIDE	6% PADDING	GROUND LINE (FROM TOP)
1024 px	61 px	901 px
512 px	31 px	451 px
256 px	15 px	225 px

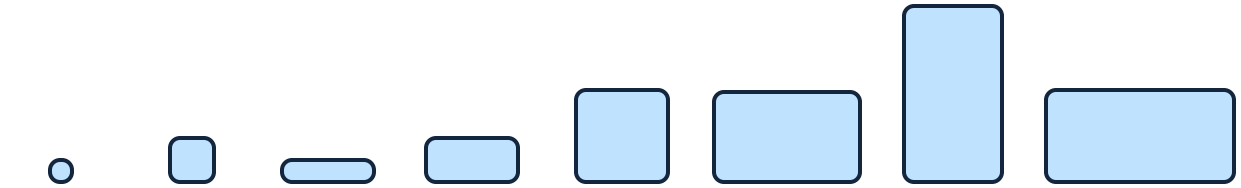

On a wide or tall canvas, measure the same way against its own height and width.

Colors and skin tones

Draw the first color, then duplicate the design and change only the flat color group. Rename each copy with its color or tone before you download it.

Every canvas size we use

Drawn to scale. The count is how many files use each size.

OUR GUIDE

Meet Roxie

Roxie is a small shaggy grey dog with floppy ears. She is the heart of the game, so she gets her own page.

A quick rough sketch to show the idea: please make her yours, and much cuter.

What she looks like

- Fluffy light-grey coat with darker grey tufts
- Darker grey floppy ears
- Round dark eyes with a white highlight
- A small black nose and short legs
- A happy curled tail
- A Loomis-blue collar with a small gold shield-shaped tag

The tag is her signature. It also keeps her different from the clients' own dogs, which never wear it.

Who she is

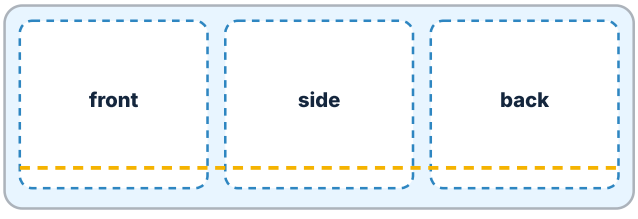

Cheerful, loyal and a little goofy, but never frantic. She is calm and kind, the sort of friend who is always happy to see you.

She lives at Loomis HQ. She greets players, gives friendly tips, and carries quote requests from the player to HQ.

She also keeps watch on the privacy screen ("Your world is safe with us") that appears just before someone creates an account: calm and protective, never fierce.

Please start with the turnaround sheet

Before any of her poses, draw `roxie-turnaround.png`: Roxie from the front, the side and the back, on one wide canvas. We'll all check it together, and every pose after that stays on-model. Her poses and headshot are in Round 1.

CHECKLIST

The first playable beta

Why these first? These are the pieces every player sees in their first fifteen minutes: Roxie, Loomis HQ, the family, a home, a car, and the little bits of nature and sparkle that make the world feel alive.

Once these are in, someone can play from the empty field all the way to a small neighborhood. Anything not drawn yet keeps showing its emoji, so the game always works while we wait for the next batch.

	FILE NAME	WHAT TO DRAW	SIZE (PX)	TODAY
		Start with the turnaround sheet. Once we all love how she looks from every side, the other poses are much easier to keep on-model. Her full description is on the Meet Roxie page.
☐	`roxie-turnaround.png`	Roxie turnaround sheet. Roxie standing in three views side by side (front, side facing right, and back) so every later pose stays on-model. Note: Please send this one first, before any other Roxie pose. ☐	`roxie-sit.png`	Roxie sitting. Roxie sitting happily, facing front and turned a little to the right: her default, resting pose.	1024 × 1024	🐶
☐	`roxie-wave.png`	Roxie waving. Roxie sitting with one front paw raised in a friendly hello.	1024 × 1024	🐶
☐	`roxie-talk.png`	Roxie talking. Roxie with her head tilted and her mouth open as if she is speaking, leaving room beside her for a speech bubble.	1024 × 1024	🐶
☐	`roxie-happy.png`	Roxie happy. Roxie standing with her tongue out, a big smile and her tail curled up high.	1024 × 1024	🐶
☐	`roxie-run.png`	Roxie running. Roxie running, seen from the side and facing right, with her ears bouncing.	1024 × 1024	🐶

☐	`roxie-celebrate.png`	Roxie celebrating. Roxie jumping for joy, with her ears flying up and all four paws off the ground. Note: She is in the air, so her feet will be above the ground line. Keep her centered.	1024 × 1024	🐶
☐	`roxie-sleep.png`	Roxie sleeping. Roxie curled up asleep in a round, cozy shape with her tail over her nose.	1024 × 1024	🐶

☐	`roxie-think.png`	Roxie thinking. Roxie with her head tilted and a small curl of fur on top of her head that bends into a question-mark shape. Note: The curl is a drawn shape only. Please don't add any real letters or text.	1024 × 1024	🐶
☐	`roxie-proud-shield.png`	Roxie with the gold shield. Roxie sitting proudly with her chest out beside a big gold shield. Note: Match the gold of the shield-gold piece. Leave the middle of the shield plain.	1024 × 1024	🐶
☐	`roxie-guard.png`	Roxie on guard. Roxie sitting proudly and calmly in front of a closed gold padlock, protective but never fierce: she is the face of the "Your world is safe with us" privacy screen shown just before a client creates an account. Note: Keep her warm and friendly, with a soft smile and relaxed ears. A small round vault door would also work in place of the padlock. No text on it.	1024 × 1024	🐶
☐	`roxie-headshot.png`	Roxie headshot. Just Roxie's head, smiling at us and framed to fit neatly inside a circle. Note: Used on the chat button and in chat. Let the head fill about 85% of the canvas so the ears stay inside the circle.	1024 × 1024	💬

Loomis HQ

☐	`hq-building.png`	Loomis HQ building. A friendly little agency office with a welcoming front door and a blank sign panel above it that reads as "the agency" at a glance. Note: Leave the sign panel empty, because the app adds the name. ☐	`hq-flag.png`	HQ flag. Just a flag on a pole, in Loomis gold, drawn on its own so we can make it wave. Note: Draw the flag flat and straight. Put the foot of the pole on the ground line in the center of the canvas.	512 × 512
☐	`hq-hill.png`	HQ hill. A low, wide grassy mound with a flat top for HQ to sit on. Note: No building on it, because HQ is its own piece. Use the three grass greens and let the mound fill the canvas width with a little padding.	1024 × 512
☐	`roxie-doghouse.png`	Roxie's doghouse (optional). A cute little doghouse with a round doorway and a Loomis-blue roof, sitting beside HQ. Note: Optional: nice to have, but not needed for the first beta.	512 × 512

CHECKLIST

The deep tree on the map

Why these next? Round 2 covers everything else a client can add to the map: more vehicles, boats and toys, pets, jobs, yard buildings, valuables for the treasure chest, and the pieces of land that appear when the world grows.

Many of these pieces have a few colors. Remember the recolor tip from the style guide: keep the part that changes as one flat color group.

CHECKLIST

Inside the home, and extras

Why these last? Round 3 is the finishing touch: small icons for the things inside a home, the badges players earn, the family tree, a sky for every level, and (optionally) a picture for each life event.

Most of these are small 512 px icons, so they go quickly. They only appear when someone opens a home's detail screen, which is why they come last.

Sending files back

Put everything in one shared folder, either on Google Drive or as a shared Canva folder. David will share the link with you.

The simple rules

- Name every file exactly as listed, lowercase with dashes.
- Batches are welcome. Send a handful whenever they are ready.
- Round 1 first, then Round 2, then Round 3.
- Inside a round, any order is fine. Roxie's turnaround sheet is the one to send first.

Before you send, a quick check

- Transparent background (except the skies and the app icon)
- The exact file name, ending in `.png`
- The size from the checklist
- Centered, with its base on the ground line
- No text, no letters, no numbers and no ground shadow

Questions? Ask David.

Whether it is a name, a size, or "what on earth is this one?", ask any time. And thank you: this world is going to be wonderful.
